THE COMING DOG AND POULTRY SHOW

Important Meeting of the Virginia Kennel Club Last Evening.

Kennel Club was held last evening at the Street, Colonel W. Miles Cary called the meeting to order, with a large number present. The premium lists were ready for distribution and were given the various members.

The manager, Mr. R. C. Brauer, reported everything working smoothly and pointing to the largest show ever held in the South of this kind. Some noted dog men from various States will send entries, besides local exhibitors. Every inch of floor space in the big Masonio Temple will be occupied when the doors are thrown open Monday, November 24th. The entries for dogs close on the 20th Temple will be occupied when the doors are thrown open Monday, November 2st, those interested in dogs close on the 20th at midnight, and it is requested that those interested in dogs send for premium list and entry blanks at once. The management reports many special at tractions, besides the dogs, poutry and placons, and many displays of various kinds, each of which will be a feature in itself.

The programme of the performances will be issued later. Thursday and Saturday of the show week have been set apart as children's days. It has been decided to give to the scholars in every grade of every school making the base percentage of standing during the week prior to show week a free ticket, which will be good for admission to the entire exhibition. Children must bring a signed certificate from the teachers or their respective grades to the manager. R. C. Bruuer, at No. 105 East Broad Sireet, on Saturday, November 2ist, when said tickets will be issued to them.

The programme offered this year will be indeed attractive, and will prove a source of great delight to the little ones, while the lover of dogs and other pets will find specimens of their liking exhibited in large numbers. The Temple will be decorated from end to end, and many are and incandeacent lights will make the show room as bright as day.

The exhibition ring will be immediately in front of the musle stand. For any information pertaining to the show, address or call on the manager, or the secretary. Charles B. Cooke, No. 185 East Broad Street.
